

- When will the system become 'live'
- Can't I just create the same effects using my home computer?
- I'm a freelance motion graphics designer, can I sell my work via this system

When will the system become 'live'

We are working very hard and will be opening the system for public preview in a few days time. At that point you will be able to use the system and provide feed back on how we could improve it.

---

Can't I just create the same effects using my home computer?

If you have the right software, are good at 3D motion graphics design and have a lot of free time on your hands then yes, probably. But the right software will cost you many hundreds of dollars, most of our templates have taken many hours of toil by professional designers with many years of design experience and the average home computer could spends days 'rendering' some of the complex effects we undertake in minutes.

---

I'm a freelance motion graphics designer, can I sell my work via this system

Absolutely. We are planning on making it as easy as possible for you to submit content to the system. All we ask is that you follow a few simple guide lines.

---